

OBSERVATION

Algo capta nuestra atención obligándonos a detener el paso. Cerca, en las afueras de Nantes cruzamos las miradas, un monumental ojo de mármol observa detenidamente el transcurso del tiempo. Qué caprichoso es el universo, disponer un elemento tan sobrio y forzarlo a aceptar el cambio, acomodarse al momento que le ha tocado vivir. Cuántas historias capturadas en la retina de este ser tan maravilloso.

Something has caught our eye, causing us to break off our journey. Nearby, just outside the city of Nantes, our glances meet, a vast marble eye closely scrutinising the passing of time. The universe is innately fickle, forcing such a temperate element to accept change, to fit in with the moment fate has chosen for it. Imagine all the tales that have transfixed the retina of this truly amazing being.
